

The Bavarian Chalets

KACHINA VILLAGE, TAOS SKI VALLEY, NEW MEXICO

Three Bedroom Chalet

Modern practical luxury combines with a sublime wilderness experience nestled at the base of Kachina Peak in Taos Ski Valley. With interiors designed by award-winning Alexandra Champalimaud, the Gold Key 2009 Designer of the Year for hospitality design, the newly-built 3 Bedroom Chalets have already garnered the distinction of Interior Design Magazine's Best of 2009 Merit Award for Boutique Hotels.

Just steps from lift 4, in the new Kachina Village at Mid Mountain, these chalets are perfectly situated for skiing and snowboarding. The rest of the year, they are an ideal base-camp for mountain biking, hiking, fishing, horseback riding, and white-water rafting or just watching the stars. Year-round, enjoy breakfast, lunch and dinner at the acclaimed Bavarian Restaurant.

The Modernist interiors are warmed with colors like deep eggplant and toasted orange and earthy materials like wide-plank wood flooring and wood chinking on the walls. The clean rustic but contemporary design uses local influences including rusty metal and vintage ski advertisements.

The master suite has a king-size 4-poster bed and an office, a guest room with king bed, and third bedroom with 2 twin beds. The main living areas flow easily into one another for casual living and entertaining. The entry is complete with custom ski and boot storage and cubby-holes for hats, goggles and whatever you want to grab on your way out to the slopes or hiking trails.

Set next to natural wetlands, you can take in the privacy and views of tall spruce trees and the surrounding mountains.

All chalets are furnished and accessorized down to the organic cotton sheets and vintage ski artwork. Property management and full hospitality services, including housekeeping, concierge, and shuttle service are available through the Bavarian Lodge.

Phase 1 of the Bavarian Inn and Chalets consists of six award-winning 3 bedroom 4 bath chalets. Two are available.
